

Hamilton Grange National Memorial Restoration Update – May 26, 2011

Welcome to The Grange

Great news! The National Park Service (NPS) is planning to reopen Hamilton Grange National Memorial to the public beginning this September 17. The Grange has been closed to the public for nearly five years, going through a move and an "extreme makeover" designed to make Alexander Hamilton's 'Sweet Project' look and feel as welcoming to us as it did to Hamilton and his family when they moved in in 1802. As we get closer to the opening date, details for the opening celebration will be released to you. We thank you in advance for your continued interest in this most significant of historic NPS sites here in New York City.

The Grange on May 20, 2011

Your input sought on the former Grange site on Convent Avenue

The National Park Service recently published an Amendment to the Hamilton Grange National Memorial General Management Plan. The Amendment focuses on alternatives for development that will guide long-term management of the NPS property at 287 Convent Avenue, former site of Hamilton Grange. The Amendment is available for review at local libraries and at <http://parkplanning.nps.gov/HamiltonGrangeGMPA-EA>. Public comment on the Amendment will be accepted until June 20, 2011. Comments may be submitted in writing to the Superintendent, Hamilton Grange NM, 26 Wall Street, New York, NY 10005, or via online at the planning site referenced above. Additionally, the NPS is hosting a public meeting on the Amendment where the public will have the opportunity to ask questions and make comments on the alternatives presented in the plan. The meeting will be held on June 1, 2011 from 6:30 PM to 8:30 PM at The Harlem School of the Arts, 645 St. Nicholas Avenue, New York, NY 10030.

Former site of Hamilton Grange National Memorial on Convent Avenue in Harlem, New York

To comment or ask a question, please return to the Hamilton Grange Web site and click on the e-mail link above the updates. To be removed from this update list, go to www.nps.gov/hagr, click on "e-mail us" and write UNSUBSCRIBE in the subject line before submitting. Thank you.